Good morning kids, amazing we`re in the middle of the week wow!!!!!!

¡Papitos Buenos dias!

- El tema de hoy es introducción a Grammar First Conditional.
- Kids please in your Grammar Notebook , copy down the following information.

The First Conditional

The first conditional has the present simple after 'if', then the future simple in the other clause:

- if + present simple, ... will + infinitive

It's used to talk about things which might happen in the future. Of course, we can't know what will happen in the future, but this describes possible things, which could easily come true.

- If it rains, I won't go to the park.
- If I study today, I'll go to the party tonight.
- If I have enough money, I'll buy some new shoes.
- She'll be late if the train is delayed.
- She'll miss the bus if she doesn't leave soon.
- If I see her, I'll tell her.

First vs. Zero Conditional:

The first conditional describes a particular situation, where as the zero conditional describes what happens in general.

For example:

(Zero conditional): if you sit in the sun, you get burned (here I'm talking about every time a person sits in the sun - the burning is a natural consequence of the sitting)

But (First conditional): if you sit in the sun, you'll get burned (here I'm talking about what will happen today, another day might be different)

- Tomorrow we`re going to add a video and examples besides the explanation of how to work with this structure.

That`s it for today!!!!
